Handwritten text in Burmese script, consisting of two columns of text on a single sheet of paper. The script is cursive and appears to be a historical form of Burmese. The text is written in dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. There are some faint horizontal lines visible, suggesting the text might be part of a ledger or a structured document. The right column of text is partially obscured by a dark, irregular mark, possibly a hole or a stain.

Handwritten text in a South Indian script, likely Grantha or Tamil, arranged in approximately 10 horizontal lines. The script is finely inscribed on a light-colored, aged palm leaf. A prominent dark circular hole is visible in the center of the leaf, used for threading a cord to bind multiple leaves together. The text appears to be a form of liturgical or philosophical verse, with some characters resembling 'Om' and other sacred symbols. The lines are roughly as follows:

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper with horizontal ruling lines. The script is dense and fills most of the page.

[illegible]

[illegible][illegible]

Handwritten text in a script, likely Devanagari, on a piece of aged paper. The text is arranged in approximately 10 horizontal lines. A small, dark, irregular mark or hole is visible near the center of the page, between the third and fourth lines of text. The ink is dark and the paper shows signs of age and wear.
